37. SANNA-MARIA 'Compassion art' is definition without logic, without sense, it is born from deep feelings, sensitivity and compassion. 'Compassion art' wants to increase the atmosphere of goodwill, in the spirit of her dear late grandma, Linnea. It wants people to see their own wonderfulness and to see wonderfulness in others too. You can find the key to reading 'Compassion art' from your own feelings and imagination. Visit www.sannamarjaart.com or follow @sannamarjaart on Instagram.

38. PASCALE SCHMID is a Swiss artist. Following a major mourning she decided to leave the financial world where she used to work for many years and to concentrate on her artistic work using it like a therapy. Exploring different styles and techniques, she enjoys variations. To find out more, follow @pascale_myart on Instagram or email pascale@pascalesplaces.com

39. CHRISTINE WYLIE's formal investigation into the arrangement of monochromatic space has led her to concentrate on the study of printmaking. Her series of photogravure prints is the culmination of a process-based methodology, where self-constructed geometric compositions combine with natural light to create images that suggest presence and absence, space and non-space. Pictured is 'Slant III'. Visit www.christinewylie.co.uk and follow @christinewylie.art on Instagram.

40. ALEXANDRA KOSTIC D is an abstract expressionist style artist who found her inspiration after moving to the tropical landscape of far North Queensland, Australia. She intuitively feels the essence of nature through her inner vision and interprets that into her artwork using various mediums. To find out more, visit aleksd.net or email alexart.k@bigpond.com

41. KATHY STANLEY is a Jamaican-born artist living on the US West Coast. An intuitive artist and ecopsychology educator, her acrylic paintings reflect meditative inner journeys of exploring the ecological self. She gravitates towards images that celebrate the earth, the rising feminine spirit and invoke wholeness, joy and aliveness. Shown is 'Queendom Come.' Connect with her at SacredArtJourneys.com and on follow @kstanleyart on Instagram.

42. HANNAH MERRILL is an American artist who has trained all over the world and is now settled in Britain. She makes beautiful delicate works with an environmental conscience. Her recent art series provides a feminine viewpoint on environmental issues. Visit www.hannahmerrill.com or follow @hannahmerrillart on Instagram.

43. ESMAY LUCK creates watercolour illustrations inspired by the natural world. Her 'Little Ones' collection of fine art prints and originals are timeless pieces for children's interiors. All prints are personalisable and make charming gifts for birthdays, Christenings and Mother's Day. Visit esmayluckart.com and email esmayluckart@gmail.com to find out more.

44. MARTINA UTHARDT is an artist based in Finland. The picturesque village of Malax, with its surrounding nature, provides inspiration for Martina's abstract acrylic paintings. They are often described as bringing a sense of joy and as life-affirming with a streak of melancholy. Martina paints mindfully, letting the colours and forms play freely. Visit martina-uthardt.com or follow @martinauthardtart on Instagram.

45. LUCY COOPER is a Brighton-based artist creating screenprints and digital art. Her prints are characterised by strong colour palettes, innovative compositions, and reinterpretations of familiar sights which invite the viewer to look at the world with a fresh perspective. Find out more at www.lucycooperprints.com or follow @lucycooper_willowart on Instagram.

46. HELEN STEVENS is an artist and surface designer who creates work for the interiors industry. Her abstract expressionist paintings take inspiration from earth geology to construct her design led pieces. Helen can work on commission paintings, and also produces mural wallpaper in similar styles to her artwork and has recently been awarded finalist in The Northern Design Awards 2020. View www.surfacephilia.co.uk and follow @surfacephilia on Instagram.

47. ART COLORIS. Tori Sorgendal is a Norwegian self-taught intuitive abstract artist, based in Oslo. Her work is inspired by nature, imagined landscapes and the interaction between humans. Tori's paintings are a joyful interplay between colours, layers and textures, often with the use of mixed media. Seen at exhibitions in Norway and recently in Milan, Italy! Follow @artcoloris on Instagram, email tori@sorgendal.no or visit her website, www.Arteoloris.Wixsite.com/home

48. AMELIE MONIRA EGENOLF is a self-taught artist from south Germany. Monira grew up in Asian gardens, lived in South America, Asia and NZ, where she takes her inspiration from. She creates colourful art with mixed media that transports you to a place of magic, beauty and harmony. Find out more at www.monira-art.de and follow @moniraart on Instagram.

49. CLAIRE SAYERS is a contemporary Australian artist who paints large scale, impressionistic, multi-layered works. Claire draws inspiration from her surrounding environment. Her paintings are vibrant and translate landscapes into their most uplifting form. Her art is exhibited in both Australia and around the world. Visit www.claresayers.com.au or search @clairesayersartworks on Instagram.

50. TIM CUNLIFFE is a stained glass artist with over 30 years' experience of creating public and private commissions in stained glass. His work combines the ancient tradition of medieval stained glass with a fresh contemporary approach often focusing on animal imagery. To see more visit www.timcunliffe.com and follow @tim_cunliffe on Instagram.

51. BEN LEE is a metal sculptor based in the Cotswolds where he began sculpting with horse shoes in 2016. Striving to capture movement in a still object, Ben studies each subject to ensure he encapsulates the real-life, recognisable characteristics the animal has. He has developed an expansive range of sculptures using a wider variety of metals including recycled materials. Visit blsculptures.com and follow @blsculptures on Instagram.

52. LAURA WEEKES is an abstract and portrait artist exploring varying mediums to create widespread texture and evocative pieces. She enjoys how abstract creates a euphoric realism that is relatable but not necessarily reality. As no two pieces are the same, she really enjoys creating futuristic and dream-like artwork. Visit www.lauraweekesgallery.com and follow @lauraweekesgallery on Instagram.

53. LAMBRINI NIAROS is a resin and multimedia artist. She draws her inspiration from her environment and nature. Lambrini explores the concept of the ocean through organic movement and fluidity, revealing an intuitive approach to fluid compositions that are particularly suggestive of ocean-like forms. Her layered works use dynamic colours to convey the interactions between the shallow and the deep. Visit lambstudio.com and follow @lambstudio on Instagram or email lambstudio@outlook.com
